COACH HYDE

1938 FOOTBALL REVIEW

In a season which was not so successful as the last two, the 1938 North Dallas eleven executed a nine-game schedule winning only two games and tying one. Ineligibility of two stellar backfield men and a decided lack of good line material holding them to a slow start, the Bulldogs wound up in fifth place in the city series.

North Dallas lost to some great teams in bowing to Tyler, East Texas champions; McKinney, runners-up in District 7; Sunset, winners of District 8; John Reagan, champions of the Houston district. A razzle-dazzle Adamson eleven, which passed the Bulldogs dizzy, was the only team without title hopes to beat North Dallas.

A line which seasoned as the year progressed led the North Dallas warriors to wins over Forest and a strong Sherman team.

The 1938 grid war came to a close with two close battles, a tie against Tech and a hard-fought defensive battle with Woodrow, which saw Co-captains Austin and Fleet seriously injured, leaving North Dallas virtually without an offense. In this game a gallant forward wall held the Wildcats to a last-minute field goal.

A great deal of credit goes to Coaches Anderson and Hyde for their fine work in developing this green line to a precision machine, each part of which carried out his duty well in spite of difficulties.

Cheerleaders

Basketball

Decidedly lacking in experienced material, the North Dallas basketball quintet, headed by Coach O. A. Cruce in his first year for the Orange and White, finished in fifth place in the City Series, winning three games and losing seven.

The Bulldog five won from Sunset by forfeit and from Tech in the highest-scoring game of the season for the local tribe in the first half of the race. In the second half North Dallas managed to beat only Forest, but played some close thrillers, notably an extra-period heartbreaker with Adamson.

Golf

Mr. Witmeyer's golf team wasn't up to par this season because of the loss of several lettermen. Next year they expect to have a more successful season.

Baseball

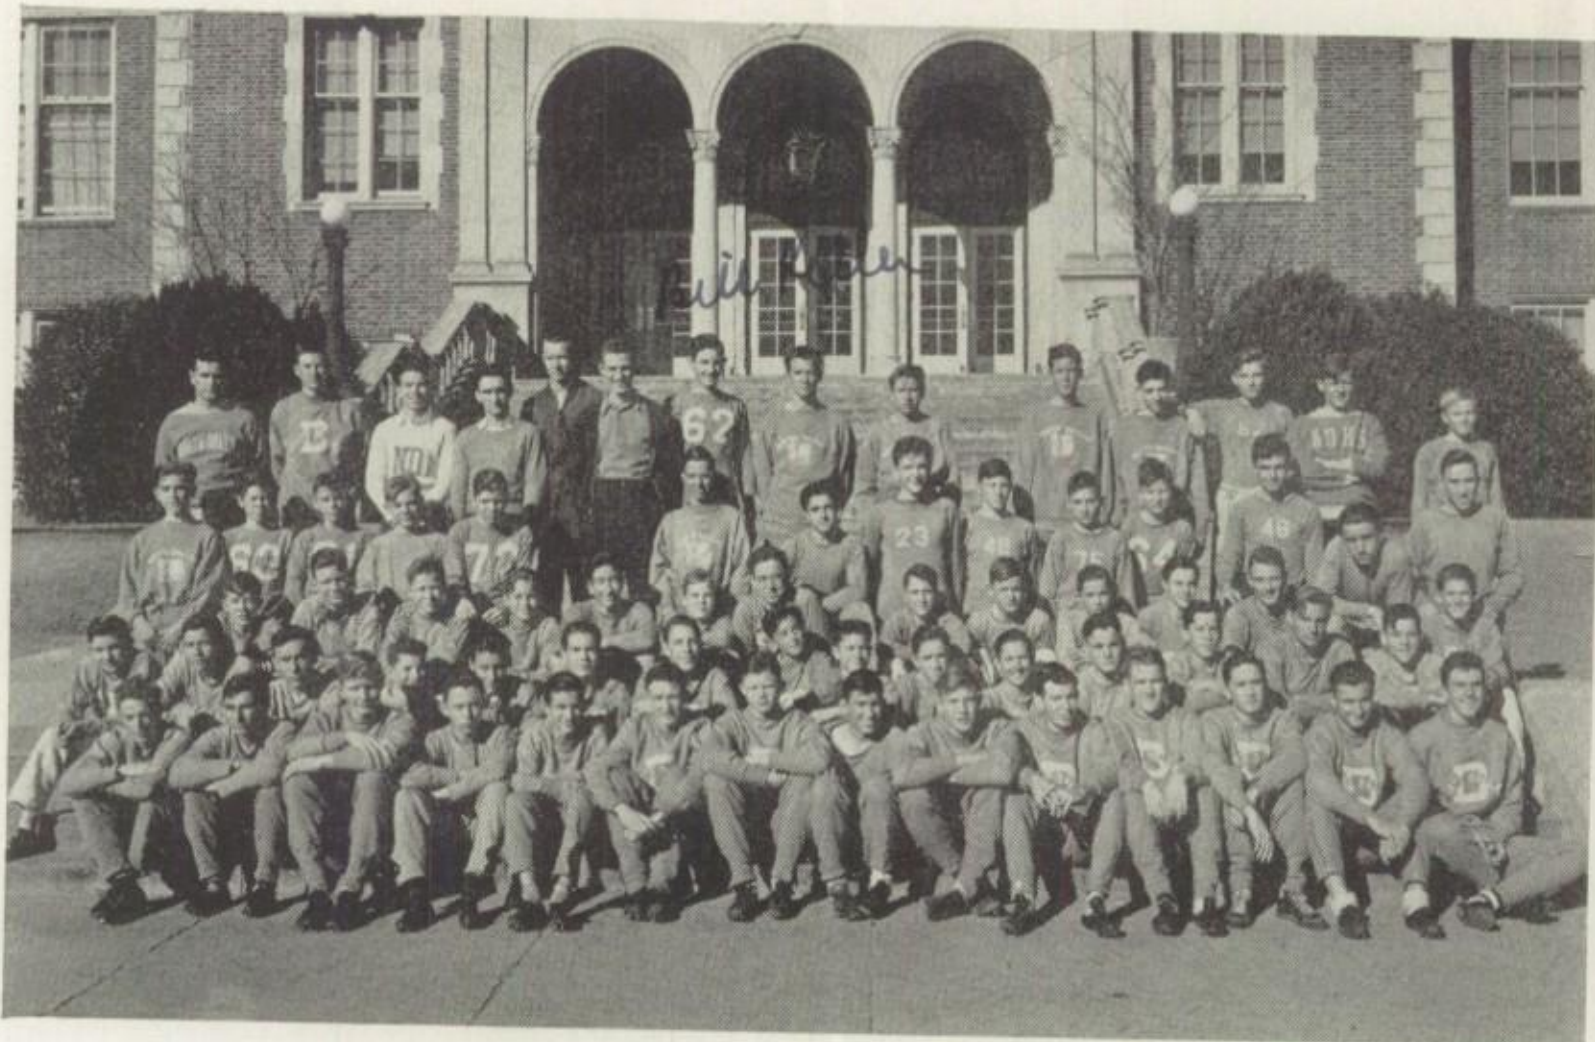

Green material hindered Coach E. M. Fulton's aspirants for the 1939 baseball race. Good pitching, marred by mediocre fielding, stands out as the best part of the fair team, which is expected to finish about fifth in the city. Berkley hurled a two-hit ball game with Forest. The team has good prospects for next year. The regular team is made up of Johnny Caldwell, Martin Skaggs, Bob Berkley, Jimmie Llewellyn, Elwood Townsley, Walton Wilson, Jimmie O'Connor, Lawrence Moellenburg, Chester Klein, and Henry Martinez. Other members of the squad are J. D. Noble, Bill Noakes, Davis Howell, Jimmie Fitzpatrick, Frank Watson, Charles Lancaster, George Shehan, and Bob Mullarkey.

Tennis

The 1939 netters of North Dallas experienced their least successful season in more than ten years. Outstanding were the consistently fine showing of the boys' doubles team and the fact that O. A. Cruce held the coaching job for his initial year.

The team was made up of the following: James McNiel, Boys' Singles; Helen Swanson, Girls' Singles; George Wunderlick and Johnny Saville, Boys' Doubles; Irma Cooper and Marie Daniels, Girls' Doubles; J. M. Howell and Leah Heilig, Mixed Doubles.

Track

Led by Foy Garison and Frank Farris, the Bulldog thinly-clads of 1939 experienced a successful season. North Dallas has had fine track teams for several seasons, and this year was no exception. The Bulldogs finished second in the city series, barely being squeezed out of the championship by Sunset.

Early season practice and the regular triangular meets failed to reveal the power of the local track squad. After winning only one triangular meet, the Bulldogs were rated little better than fourth, but were conceded the title, "dark horse." The results of the city race, however, made the North Dallas speed merchants a threat to the state title.

Coach Rufus Hyde's squad was larger this year than ever before. Seventy-eight hopefuls reported for the Spring sport.

But, in direct contrast to the great size of the team, the Bulldogs depended on two men for three-fourths of their points in the City Meet. Of the thirty-six points North Dallas took, sixteen were donated by Garison and ten by Farris.

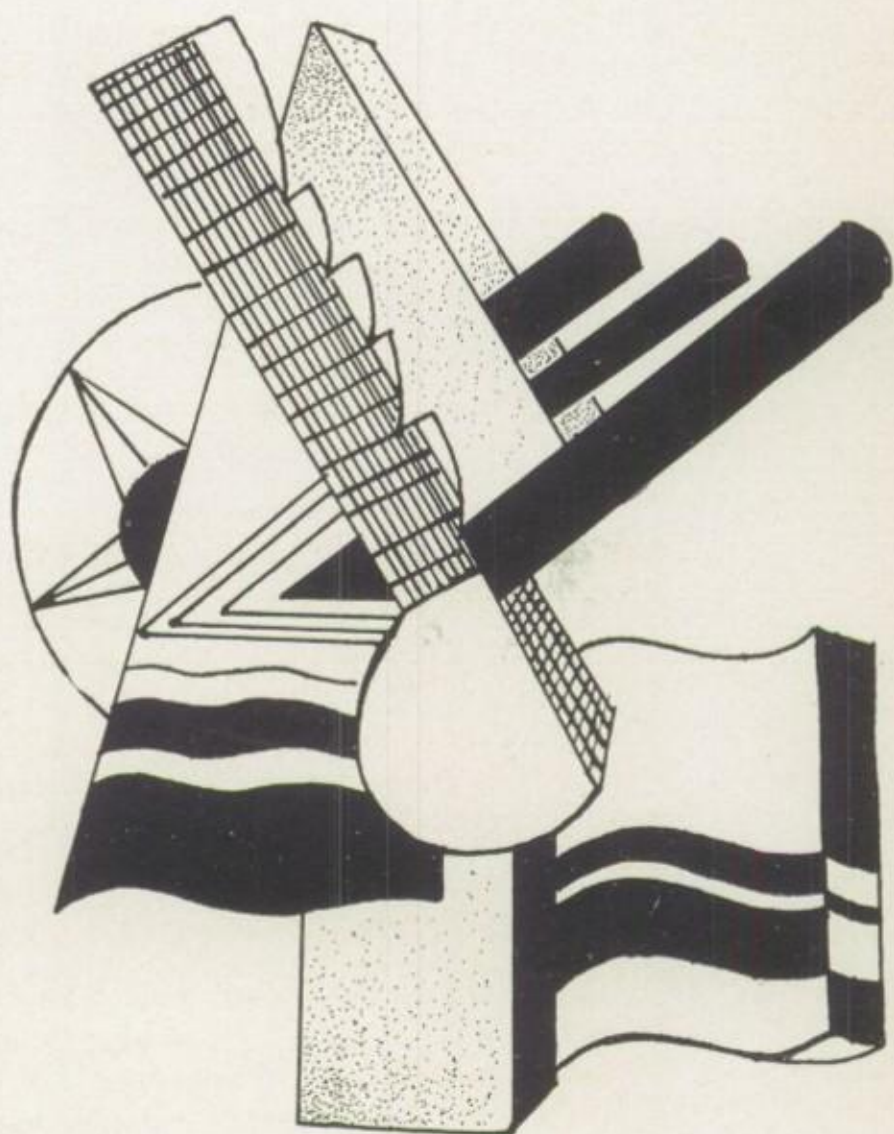

Orange and White color-bearers in the City Meet were Foy Garison, Frank Farris, Hal Patrick, Jack Nichols, Robert Harris, Bill Keller, Edwin May, Peyton Cullum, Fred Gannon, Thomas Canty, Richard Hardy, George Dorman, Jimmy Wilson, Jimmy Compton, Pat Mullarkey, Billy Jolly, Jimmy O'Connor, W. L. Patrick, J. L. Garrison, Jack Hagan, Jimmie Heitman, Kenneth Woods, Elwood Townsley, Abel Gary, Bobby Porter, Harold Crossen, Lawrence Moellenburg, and Joe Curry.

Events in which North Dallas placed are as follows:

100-yard Dash—Farris, first; Garison, third. 220-yard Dash—Farris, first. 120-yard High Hurdles—Wilson, second. 880-yard Run—Garison, first. Broad Jump—Garison, first; W. L. Patrick, second. High Jump—Garison, tie for first. Javelin Throw—Townsley, second. Mile Relay—Keller, May, Harris, and Hal Patrick, fourth.

Scores of the six schools in the meet were Sunset, 45½ points; North Dallas, 36 points; Woodrow Wilson, 31½ points; Adamson, 30 points; Forest, 10 points; Technical, 1 point.

JOKES-AIDS

I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free;
A girl whose hungry eyes aren't fixed
Upon a drink that's being mixed;
A girl who doesn't like to wear
A lot of junk to match her hair.
Girls are loved by fools like me
For who on earth could kiss a tree?

—A. & M. Battallion.

ODE TO A FLY

Him ain't got no comb to comb
Him's hair.
Him don't care,
Him bald.

Dumb (struggling in the water): "Help!
I can't swim! Drop me a line!"

Dumber (from the pier): "Yes, and you write me soon, too."

James M.: "What are cow hides used for?"

Jack K.: "To hold the cow together."

Lieutenant (roaring with rage at private): "Who told you to put those flowers on that table?"

Private: "The Major, sir."

Lieut.: "Pretty, aren't they?"

"Really, Bill, don't you prefer talkative girls to others?"

"What others?"

"Your uncle seems hard of hearing."

"Hard of hearing? Well, I should say so!
Once he conducted the family prayers kneeling on the cat."

Explorer: "A tiger will not harm you if you carry a white walking stick."

Tenderfoot: "Yeah, but how fast do you have to carry it?"

An author, discussing his book with an unappreciative friend, remarked impatiently,
"No, Jim, you cannot appreciate it.
You've never written a book yourself."

"Nor have I ever laid an egg," retorted
Jim, "but I'm a better judge of an omelet than any old hen in the country."

"Thank heaven, that misery is over!"

"What's that?"

"Dancing with the hostess. Have you been through it yet?"

"I don't have to. I'm the host."

We ask a simple question,
For that is all we wish:
Are fishermen all liars,
Or do only liars fish?

"You look flustered, man!"

"I am. My girl threw me over."

"Why worry? There's plenty more."

"Yeah, but this one threw me over that cliff."

"May I hold your Palmolive?"

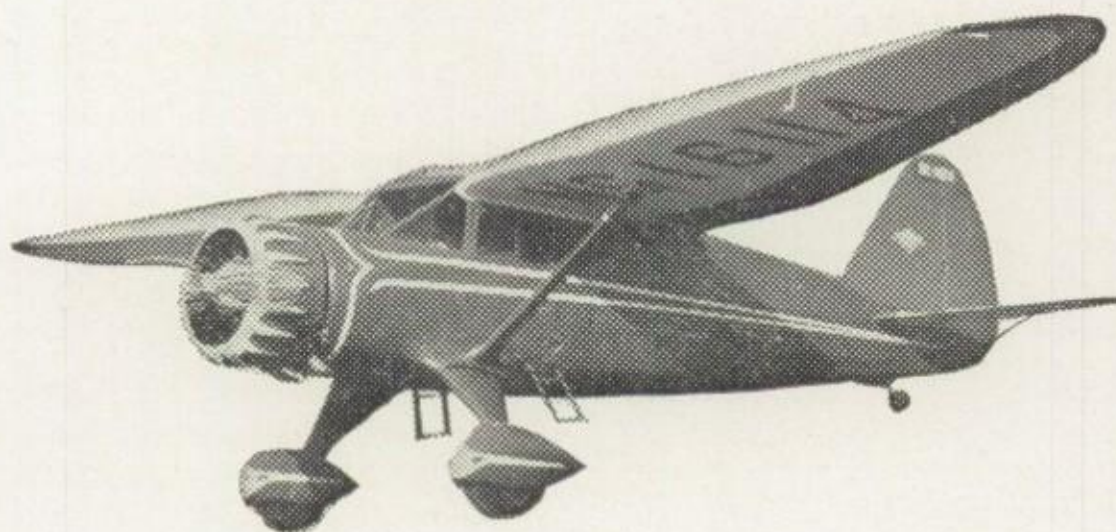

"Not on your Lifebuoy. Ivory formed!"

Senior: "We have 74 keys at our house and not one fits the front door."

Freshman: "Then what's the use of them?"

Senior: "Oh, we couldn't play the piano without them."

A Scotchman, teaching his little boy to walk, made the boy take long steps in order to save his shoes. Result: The little boy ripped his pants.

First Golfer: "Confound it, sir, you nearly hit my wife."

Second Golfer: "Did I? Well, have a shot at mine."

"Do you know the motif in that Russian composition they're playing?"

"I can't just be sure, but by the sound of it, I think it must be revenge."

Teacher: "Correct the sentence, 'Before any damage could be done the fire was put out by the volunteer fire brigade'."

Boy: "The fire was put out before any damage could be done by the volunteer fire brigade."

Overheard on a bus top: Even if you don't like mother coming to visit us, I think it's going a bit too far to wall up the door to the spare room!"

Mother was trying to persuade her small son to eat his spinach. "Just look," she said, "how strong and famous it made Pop-eye."

"Yeah," retorted Bobby triumphantly, "—and look how it rotted all his teeth out."

"What's the game those men are playing?"
"That's golf. It's just like tennis, except you don't use cards."

"Darling, what a lovely coat! Did your husband give it to you to keep you warm—or quiet?"

"That little dancer isn't a gold digger any longer."

"Oh, has she changed her ways?"

"No, she's heard about platinum."

She: "When he saw me, his whole face lit up."

He: "H'm—one of those lantern-jawed fellows, I suppose!"

Auntie (to niece who has been making faces): "When I was a child, I was told that if I made ugly faces my face would stay that way."

Little Pamela: "Well, you can't say that you weren't warned, Auntie."

Father: "Now, Jane, what were you doing last night at the gate?"

Jane: "John and I were playing kith and kin."

Father: "Kith and kin? Whatever do you mean?"

Jane: "John said, 'Can I kith you?' and I said, 'You kin!'"

A young city girl, visiting in the country, became friendly with a young farmer. Strolling across the meadow one evening, they saw a cow and calf rubbing noses in the accepted bovine fashion.

"Ah," said the farm boy, "that sight makes me want to do the same."

"Well, don't let me stop you," said the girl. "After all, it's your cow."

Little Susie had been naughty, and her mother suggested that she might do a little praying. She decided to try it, and this is what she said that night before she went to sleep: "Dear God, I know I'm a bad little girl, and I wish You would help me to be better, and if at first you don't succeed, try, try again!"

The old farmer had sold his farm and recently moved to the big city which he was told offered many "conveniences" not to be had on the farm. In the morning, after spending the first night in their new home, his wife said: "Hiram, isn't it about time you was getting up to build the fire?"

"No, sir, not me," he exclaimed. "I'll just call the Fire Department and have them do it; we might as well get used to all these new-fangled conveniences they talk about."

"My dog stole the show."
"Took the blue ribbon, eh?"
"No, this was a flea circus."

Old Lady: "What rank did you hold in the navy?"

Sailor: "Ship's optician, Ma'am."

O. L.: "I didn't know there was such a rank: what did you do?"

Sailor: "Scrapped the eyes out of potatoes."

He took her hand in his and gazed proudly at the engagement ring he had placed on her finger only three days before.

"Did your friends admire it?" he inquired tenderly.

"Not only that," she replied, "two of them recognized it."

A Chinaman was worried by a vicious looking dog.

"Don't be afraid of him," the owner reassured. "You know the old proverb, 'A barking dog never bites'."

"Yes," replied the Chinaman, "you know ploverb, me know ploverb but dog he no know ploverb."

A city family had been motoring in the country all one Sunday. They had filled all the available space in the car with wild flowers, tree branches, and other spoils.

Being uncertain which road to take, they stopped a farmer and inquired, "Should we take this road back to the city?"

"You might as well while you're at it," replied the farmer. "It looks as if you've taken everything else."

"It's the little things that tell," said Sis as she pulled her kid brother from under the sofa.

Jack Kern: "It makes me sick at heart to see you smoke."

Ralph Phelps: "It seems to catch me more in the stomach."

Pretty Steno: "Could I have my next week's salary in advance?"

Boss: "No. My wife made me promise not to make any advances to you."

They sat alone in the moonlight,
And she soothed his troubled brow,
"Dearest, I know my life's been fast,
But I'm on my last lap now."

Anxious Scottish Mother (whose son has just been saved from drowning): "Are ye the mon who rescued our Angus? Where's his bonnet?"

Waiter: "These are the best eggs we've had for years!"

Diner: "Well, bring me some you haven't had so long."

Mr. Syron: "Which combination dissolves gold quickest?"

Doris Young: "The marriage combination."

PSALM OF STRIFE

Lives of motorists remind us,
On a Sunday afternoon
That some drive as if they liked to Try and end them pretty soon.

COMPASS HEADLINE:

"Enraged Cow Injures Farmer with Ax"

"May I have the afternoon off to go shopping with my wife?"

"No."

"Thanks."

Professor: "The examination questions are now in the hands of the printer. Are there any last-minute questions you would like answered?"

Freshman: "Who's the printer?"

Father (who has taken his daughter to a risqué play): "I'm sorry I brought you, Mabel. This is hardly a play for a young person."

Daughter: Oh, I don't mind, Dad. It'll probably liven up before the end!"

"Yes, Tommy, yachts are called 'she' because their rigging is so expensive."

"Whenever I'm in the dumps, I get myself a new hat," said Mrs. Smithson.

"I was wondering where you bought them," purred her best friend.

A colored girl was preparing for her marriage. Before the ceremony she hoarded her wages; but immediately after the wedding she asked her mistress to take charge of the fund.

"I'll take it, of course," said the puzzled lady; "but, Mandy, won't you be needing your money to spend on your honeymoon?"

"Miss May," said the bride, "does you think I'se goin' to trust myself wid a strange nigger an' all date money on me?"

Asked to pray for warm weather so that her grandma's rheumatism might pass away, a five-year-old girl knelt and said:

"Oh, Lord, make it hot for grandma!"

Teacher: "Ebb, give the principal parts of the verb 'swim'."

Ebb: "Swim, swam, swum."

Teacher: "That's right. Now of the word 'dim'."

Ebb: "Teacher, I'd rather not."

She: "Some moon, isn't it?"

He: "Uh-huh. Some dew, too."

She: "Well, I don't!"

"I wish I knew what to get father for Christmas. He likes to go after small game, but I can't afford to buy him a gun."

"Get him a fly swatter."

Lady Perry: "Buy a seal for the benefit of the Red Cross?"

Sonny McN.: "Very worthy organization, but I cannot afford a seal."

L. P.: "Buy just one seal, please!"

Sonny: "If I bought it, I couldn't feed it."

Geo. Dorman: "My, you look beautiful tonight."

Gloria S.: "Yes, I took a beauty nap this afternoon and overslept."

"So you're a salesman, are you? What do you sell?"

"Salt."

"I'm a salt seller, too."

"Shake."

Pop: "Who was the first union man?"

Oakie: "Dan Cupid."

Co-ed: "I want something to wear around the dormitory."

Salesgirl: "How large is your dormitory?"

The ancient car chugged up to the gates of the ferry. The gatekeeper, demanding the usual fee, called out, "Two dollars for the car."

The boy looked up with a joyful smile. "Sold," he said, and got out."

"How is it that you're not going to marry Vera after all?"

"Oh, I boasted a lot about my rich uncle in order to impress her, and now she's going to be my aunt."

"My wife and I got along splendidly for eight years."

"And what happened then?"

"Oh, she came back."

Ever hear the story about the A.E.F. hero who won a Croix de Guerre but who was so ugly they couldn't find a French general to kiss him?"

"You look like a nice sensible girl. Surely you will marry me?"

"Oh, no. I'm every bit as sensible as I look."

"How much are your peaches?"

"Penny each, lady."

"I'll have one, please."

Then there's the girl who returned her engagement ring in a box marked, "Glass—handle with care."

"What can I do with the children?" asked the nursemaid. "They won't go to sleep."

"I'll go in and sing to them," said their mother.

"I have already threatened them with that, but it made no difference."

Little Boy: "I want two cents' worth of birdseed, please."

Dealer: "How many birds have you, son?"

Little Boy: "I haven't any—I want to grow some."

Miss Keller: "Now, Frances, can you give me some idea of the manner in which the blood circulates?"

Frances Toan (brightly): "Oh, yes! It runs down one leg and up the other!"

Caller: "And how is your little boy getting on with his drum lessons?"

Proud Mother: "Splendidly! The only thing he doesn't quite get is the rhythm."

Salesman: "There are especially strong shirts, madam. They simply laugh at the laundry."

Customer: "I know that kind. I had some which came back with their sides split."

Hazel Parker: "What did the big rose say to the little rose?"

Virginia Isaminger: "Hi, bud!"

Mrs.: Dear, I saw the sweetest little hat in a shop today.

Mr.: Put it on and let me see how you look in it.

Freshman: "I don't know."

Sophomore: "I am not prepared."

Junior: "I do not remember."

Senior: "I don't believe I can add anything to what has been said."

A freshman on an English test, when asked to form the plural of "Mr." followed the general rule and wrote "Mrs." Right you are, freshie!

WHY TEACHERS GET MARRIED

What are glaciers? Guys that fix windows when they are broken.

What is a peninsula? A bird that lives on icebergs.

What is a volcano? A mountain with a hole in the top. If you look down you can see the creator smoking.

Why does a dog hang out his tongue when running? To balance its tail.

What is steel wool? The fleece of a hydraulic ram.

What are the Christian nations? Those that use cuss words.

What is etiquette? Saying "No, thank you" when you mean "Gimme."
